Dear Evelyn Mavis,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to sincerely apologize for the inconvenience caused by the broken mug that was sent to you. We strive to ensure that every product arrives in perfect condition, and I am truly sorry for any disappointment this may have caused.

As a gesture of our apology, we would like to offer you a full refund for the price of the mug. Additionally, we will be sending you a new mug to replace the broken one, along with a complementary lanyard as a token of our appreciation for your patience and understanding.

Thank you for choosing to shop with our bookstore. We truly value your patronage and hope you will give us another opportunity to serve you better in the future. We also appreciate you reaching out to us and bringing this matter to our attention.

Once again, I apologize for the inconvenience, and thank you for your understanding.
Warm regards,

Janelle Gardner
